POLISH CUISINE

Poland's food scene is unexpected for visitors, providing a combination of hearty traditional dishes and fresh, modern interpretations. Pierogi, the renowned Polish dumplings, come in various flavors - savory fillings such as meat, cheese, or mushrooms, and sweet fillings like fruit. In addition to pierogi, there is żurek, a sour rye soup served with sausage and eggs, and bigos, a comforting stew made from sauerkraut and meats. For dessert, there are paczki, which are delicious jam-filled doughnuts, and sernik, a creamy Polish cheesecake.
